Hey Evelyn
This is Benjamin
I've been rememberin'
The times before

You were bedevillin'
Our love was genuine
We would revel in
What life had in store

It seems like yesterday
Before you went away
Without a word to say
No letter in a drawer

Late summer nights on the front porch dusking
Watching the light turn to dark
Shining spirit slowly rusting
It was hard to see you lose your spark

Hey Evelyn
This is Benjamin
I've been wonderin'
How you're doing tonight . . .
