

This Is Happening Now
Lyrics and music by Ben Hassenger
(with inspiration from Bruce Springsteen)
© 2026

It's rolling in
The time is short
Do you flee
Or build a fort

If you run
Where do you go
If you stay
Hell, I don't know

Feeling hopeless
Helpless, betrayed
Frustrated, angry,
Alone, and afraid

You're not abandoned
Please understand
You've got friends
To take your hand

Through this city of ruins
This palace of pain
We will be the umbrella
To keep you dry from the rain

This is happening now
Nobody's coming to save us
We can't outrun the storm
But we won't let it cave us
We are not alone
No stronger stitches can be sewn
This is happening now
We'll make it through together

The richest men

Have forsaken you
No honor, character
Integrity, truth

Whitewashed history
Made shrines to themselves
Two hundred fifty years of freedom
Set aside on the shelf

This rogue nation
At war against its citizens
Dead on the street
Locked away in prisons

Our leaders have failed us
Swept us aside
Well they can't run and
They can't hide

If you see something
Say something
Do something
Sing something

If you see something
Say something
Do something
Sing something

If you see something
Say something
Do something
Sing something

If you see something
Say something
Do something
Sing something

This is happening now

Nobody's coming to save us
We can't outrun the storm
But we won't let it cave us
We are not alone
No stronger stitches can be sewn
This is happening now
This is happening now
This is happening now
We'll make it through together